Excerpts from "The Courage To Create" by Rollo May

Rollo May's "The Courage to Create" was written in 1975 - in a time when the presence of the atom bomb created an anxiety that prevented people to create for a future that was unsure, at best. Now in 2000, twenty five years of cosmic angst have intensified to a fear of the limits of even a glimpse of a future and it is reaffirming to return to Rollo May to regain the courage to "rage against the dying of the light."

Life requires different kinds of courage, but the late psychologist Rollo May argued that none is more important than the courage to create. For May, courage is the fountainhead of all virtues, and imagination, far from simply icing on the existential cake, is the source of human achievement and meaning in our lives.
