stiffness; it can also just make any pain worse when it's unwanted. Both ice and heat are pointless or worse when unwanted: icing when you're already shivering, or heating when you're already sweating.

Ice or Heat – What's better for pain and injury and why?

Boil until the first trace of a film appears on the surface. Vinegar is mostly water, which you'll need to boil away. Once about 90% of the liquid is gone – which could take half an hour of boiling or more – a crusty film will begin to form on the surface. This
